The Spark and the Drive

Wayne Harrison’s short stories have appeared in “Best American Short Stories 2010,” The Atlantic, Narrative Magazine and on NPR’s “All Things Considered.” He is the recipient of a Maytag fellowship, an Oregon Literary fellowship and a Fishtrap writing fellowship. His short story collection “Wrench” was a finalist for the Serena McDonald Kennedy Award, the Spokane Prize and the Iowa Short Fiction Award. “The Spark and the Drive” is his debut novel.

David Biespiel
6 p.m. Tuesday, April 12
A Long High Whistle

David Biespiel has published 10 books of poetry and prose. “The Book of Men and Women” was named Best Poetry of the Year for 2009 by the Poetry Foundation and also won an Oregon Book Award. Biespiel published monthly essays on poetry for the Oregonian for 10 years, which was the longest-running newspaper column on poetry in the country. “A Long High Whistle” is a collection of essays.
