1.130 Responsibility for Student Conduct and Discipline

(1) The President is responsible for development and administration of institutional policies and rules governing the role of students and their conduct. In carrying out this responsibility, the President shall take into account the views of students, faculty, and others.

(2) Institutional rules shall establish guidelines for student conduct which set forth prohibited conduct and provide for appropriate disciplinary hearings and sanctions for violations of institutional rules, consistent with standards of procedural fairness.

(3) The Board recognizes and affirms the importance of active student involvement in the deliberative and decision-making processes.
