

The Oregon State University Board of Trustees will meet

Tuesday, May 31, 2022

The Oregon State University Board of Trustees will meet virtually in executive session on Tuesday, May 31, 2022, at 2 p.m. to discuss matters related to the employment of the university's next president.

The board will meet virtually in public session at 3:30 p.m. to delegate authority to the chair of the board of trustees to negotiate contract terms with ranked candidates seeking to serve as OSU's next president.

The agenda will be posted to the board website when available.

The board's executive session is being held in keeping with Oregon law – ORS 192.660(2)(a) that allows a public body to meet in executive session to consider the employment of a public officer, employee, staff member or individual agent. According to Oregon law, media are allowed to attend an executive session but not report on the meeting or discussions held during the executive session.

To attend the executive session meeting, representatives of the media should contact Steve Clark, OSU vice president for university relations and marketing, by emailing steve.clark@oregonstate.edu by noon on Monday, May 30, 2022.
